

“How do people hurt others?” asked Fannie.

“Sometimes people hurt others by hitting them,” explained Officer Binky. “Sometimes people touch others where they do not want to be touched. The most important thing to remember is that your body belongs to you. You have the right to tell someone not to touch you and to say no.”