

“Mother, drugs change the way your body works,” said Myrtle.

“That is true,” said Mother. “When people take drugs, they are making their body work differently. You should not take things that make your body work differently if you are not sick.”