

“Let me explain what a seizure is,” said Mrs. Tinky. “Your brain tells your body what to do. Messages travel through your brain and tell your body what to do. When a person has a seizure the message gets mixed-up. That’s why the body shakes. The brain is sending a mixed-up message.”